**Quote Details

The quote provided is a generalization based on Atlas' decades of experience in relocating household goods. To provide you with a final estimate and complete an order for services, an Atlas representative is required to survey the property you intend to relocate. Because multiple factors influence costs, only a physical survey can determine a final estimate. The physical survey is also required by United States federal code for interstate relocations.

The quote provided above includes full value protection and transportation of your personal properties. Other factors impacting the cost of your relocation may include, but are not limited to, relocating these items: appliances, vehicles, patio furniture, lawn mowers, boats, hot tubs, personal properties above average value, libraries and wine collections.

Atlas Van Lines, Inc., the largest subsidiary of Atlas World Group, Inc., is licensed through the United States Department of Transportation (MC# 125550). As a DOT-approved carrier and AMSA-registered mover, Atlas is licensed for interstate transportation. Because Atlas does not maintain intrastate hauling authority, such requests received through this site will be referred to a local Atlas agent with proper intrastate hauling authority.
